Students' Perspective

THE PROBLEM

Students often face overwhelming workloads, with courses requiring them to digest hundreds of slides and thousands of pages, all while keeping up with regular assignments.

Under immense pressure, a lack of time, discipline, and tools can lead to anxiety, harming focus and academic performance. Subpar grades can damage self-esteem and cause guilt, especially if students feel they're disappointing those supporting them. If unchecked, this guilt and anxiety can escalate into serious mental health issues like depression.

Quizly is a tool designed to help students manage heavy course loads by offering a lightning-fast way to take notes and convert them into MCQ quizzes. By streamlining exam preparation, Quizly helps students reduce stress, improve focus, and achieve better academic outcomes.
